Payne named Communications Director for ANC

(Anchorage) Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (ANC) has recently hired Jennifer Payne as its Communications Director. Payne is responsible for all of the Airport's media and community relation efforts.

Payne is a life-long Alaskan and brings experience as a Media Affairs Specialist for the Municipality of Anchorage, Public Relations executive at two Anchorage advertising agencies and as a reporter working in Fairbanks, Juneau and Anchorage. Ms. Payne holds a B.A. degree in Communications from the University of Arizona.

Members of the media are encouraged to contact Payne for all stories about the airport. As a reminder, media should make contact with Jennifer Payne or the Airport Director's office if they plan to videotape or photograph anywhere on Airport property, regardless of the issue.
