

Fairbanks International Airport (FAI)

Runway 2R/20L Reconstruction

COMING SOON...

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

Join us for a Project Open House

The East Ramp at the Fairbanks International Airport (FAI) will be under construction during the summer of 2021. The project will reduce the size of paved general aviation Runway 2R/20L to 75 feet by 4500 feet, reconfigure taxiways to meet the new runway configuration, reconstruct surfaces to fix settlement problems, and add a security gate at Taxiway B. We would like to know what you and other users of the East Ramp think about the construction phasing of the project and Runway 2R/20L closures. We are also looking for feedback regarding the new gate and its operation.
