

Large Animal Transport

Acknowledgement of Responsibility

Customers traveling with large animals are solely responsible for ensuring the trailer or containment vehicle is appropriately sealed to ensure that the car deck is left clean and free of waste or debris upon disembarkation of the vessel.

In the event that waste or debris is spilled onto the car deck during loading, transport, or unloading, the customer will be held responsible and liable to restore the car deck to its original condition prior to the loading, transport, and unloading of said trailer or containment vehicle.

In the event that AMHS incurs additional expense to clean decks due to animal transport, it will be the sole financial responsibility of the customer.

In signing this form the customer acknowledges that any expense described above will be withheld from either the cash deposit submitted by customer during their booking process or charged against the credit card supplied by customer during the booking process. If a cash deposit was made, any surplus funds will be refunded to the customer and any expenses running over the $500 deposit will be billed to the customer.
